

Gruppo Investigativo's code of Ethics

The Gruppo Investigativo – Private Investigations and Security puts itself on the market with sense of responsibility and moral integrity. It aims at contributing to the development process of the economy and the quality of his professional sector. In this context, the Gruppo Investigativo – Private Investigations and Security, finds it essential to preserve and improve the reputation of professionals belonging to the investigation and security sector, in a responsible and ethically sustainable way. The Gruppo Investigativo –Private Investigations and Security is committed to build behavioral models inspired by autonomy and integrity.

Being ethical does not only signify strictly observing the law but it is also based on the will to act with transparency and honesty, yearning for a high behavioral standard.

The Gruppo Investigativo – Private Investigations and Security is aware that it offers services of public utility and commit itself to take into account that every single professional or corporate behavior has consequences on the whole professional category and on the Gruppo Investigativo itself. The Gruppo Investigativo – Private Investigations and Security is committed to enforce the law and the working contracts, to assure wage equality between male and female workforce, to adopt an fair behavior towards its own members of the staff, promoting their professional growth and safeguarding their industrial safety, to refuse infantile and juvenile work, fully respecting the rights ratified by the ONU convention on the Rights of the Child and to adopt a honest and ethical behavior towards his clients, suppliers and competitors, to maintain relations inspired by honesty and integrity with the Public Authority and the legislator and to commit to safeguard the environment and prevent each form of pollution.